

Chicago Midwest Section of AACE International

Economic Outlook for Construction

Wednesday, January 14, 2009

PRESENTED BY:

Dave Sauerman - Managing Director of the Construction and Engineering Division of The PrivateBank. Dave will discuss the financial impacts on both construction and engineering companies, addressing design, build and supply materials.

James Turner - Managing Director of the Commercial Real Estate Group of The PrivateBank will focus his presentation on the owners and developers of construction projects.

Jonathan Moss - President of Moss Construction Cost Management Inc., will focus on recent and projected costing trends, using the MossCost Index as well as discussing other unique financial and cost issues impacting the construction Industry.

SUMMARY:

AACEI Chicago Midwest Section is pleased to host this year's economic forecast presentation with a panel of respected financial and construction experts who will share their thoughts on the current projections for the construction and design industry. With the recent dramatic changes in the economy and the financial community, this presentation will focus on recent events in the financial marketplace and how they are expected to impact construction. Due to the volatility of the financial marketplace of late, the presenters will be challenged to not only reflect on recent changes but also the current projections and forecasts.
